Simmental ...

Today's Simmental on Cutting Edge

From the American Simmental Association

Bozeman, Montana

In 1968, a group of maverick cattlemen met to form the American Simmental Association. They weren't mavericks because they wanted to produce Simmental genetics, they were different because they decided to use performance records and other technologies as everyday tools for cattle and beef improvement.

As a result of their focus on performance, the first beef breed sire summary was published in 1971. This initial summary contained information on a grand total of 11 Simmental bulls! Today, millions of records are analyzed for each Simmental Sire Summary and almost 100,000 sires have records in the database.

European Simmental breeders had incorporated performance traits unique to most world cattle genetics. Few breeds could offer the combination of early puberty, growth rate, muscularity, milk production and gentle disposition found in the Simmental imports of the 1970s. When combined with America's existing Brahman and British-influenced commercial cows, farmers and ranchers had finally discovered a crossbreeding combination that optimized feeder cattle production, and offered the opportunity for great crossbred replacement heifers.

Simmental were so popular by the early 1980s, many commercial herds had become high percentage Simmental. These cattle had similar characteristics to European Simmental and thrived in high nutrition environments; however, in several areas of the U.S., it was becoming apparent that Simmental genetics needed more calving ease, less frame size and more carcass quality.

The members of the American Simmental Association responded to the call for improving these traits. Since 1984, ASA's database genetic trend proves today's Simmental sires offer greatly improved calving ease. There are numerous bulls listed in the ASA Sire Summary with high accuracy progeny proofs for exceptional direct and maternal calving ease. Now, by selecting for high calving ease EPDs, many commercial herds can safely use Simmental bulls on their heifers and cows.

Using a planned crossbreeding system, Simmental cross females are valuable replacements. Besides being among the easiest calving heifers in the business, Simmental frame scores have been dramatically decreased. The most popular Simmental bulls in the U.S. averaged frame score 6.4 in 2002 compared to a 9 in 1986. In addition, these current bulls are all solid colored and polled.

Simmental ...

From the American Simmental Association

Bozeman, Montana

The biggest change in beef production in the 1990s was the intense emphasis on carcass value. Branded beef programs featured products with much better value consistency. Both leanness and meat quality are and will continue to be critical factors of carcass value. The American Simmental Association is the most aggressive continental breed association in performance testing sires for carcass value.

Every bull in the ASA 2005 Sire Summary has carcass EPDs. Each year the ASA tests over 100 young sires for carcass value. In 1999, more than 2,000 carcasses from this program produced these averages: carcass wt. 782, fat thickness 0.41, REA 13.0, USDA Choice 69%, and less than 1% USDA Standard, dark cutters or heavy weight discounts. The ASA also lists the only Tenderness EPDs in the beef industry for most of the popular sires.

The breeders of the American and Pennsylvania Simmental Associations have taken a great breed and made it better. Where else can you find early puberty, great growth, continental breed muscle and easy dispositions tied to a database that identifies calving ease, moderated frame and the best marbling genetics among high growth cattle? A Message from the President of the Pennsylvania Simmental Association

Greetings Cattlemen,

2010 finds me in a new position as President of the PA Simmental Association. I am looking forward to a great year for us as an association as well as everyone on an individual level. As you have probably already figured out, Les Whitmoyer has stepped down as our president after five years of GREAT leadership. Filling Les' position on the board of directors is Galen Graham of York County. Galen is the only new member on the board; the rest of the board has remained the same. Laurie Fantom has filled my previous position of Vice-President and is now, what I like to think of as, my assistant. And what a great one she will be.

The new year of 2010 finds us done with the Farm Show and preparing for the Beef Expo. Once again Messick Farms cleaned house at the Farm Show! They exhibited both the Champion Bull and Champion Female in the open show. By the time you are reading this, the Beef Expo has come and gone and you are preparing for the breeding season ahead. Beyond that, please plan to attend Ag Progress Days in August in PA Furnace, KILE in early October in Harrisburg, and the PA Fall Classic Sale in Waynesburg. We are always looking for quality Simmental cattle to sell at the Fall Sale. Please consider selling some top cattle or at least attending and showing your support!

On the junior front, at the 2010 PA State Farm Show Caitlin Wolfgang took home top honors in the junior female show with the Champion and Reserve Champion females. In the steer show, Blake Herman took home the Champion Simmental steer honors and Bridget Fox had the Reserve Champion Simmental steer.

This summer, June 16-19, the PA Junior Simmental association will be hosting the Eastern Regional Simmental show. It will be held in Meadville, PA and will draw cattle from the whole East Coast. Juniors, please plan to attend this great event, as they don't come around here often. Adults, please try to make your way to Meadville as many adults are needed to help make this a fun and educational experience for our future adult members.

I hope to see you all at some point in the near future. Good Luck to everyone this coming year in all that you do. You have my number if you have a concern or just want to chat. I love to talk cattle.

Simmentally your,
Greg Stewart

Full Fleckvieh

T2 Astrid F17

Astrid is a star in every sense of the word. Her pedigree includes the great Rachel cow family which has proved to be one of the most prolific producers of great females of any cow family in North America. She is one of our top donor cows.

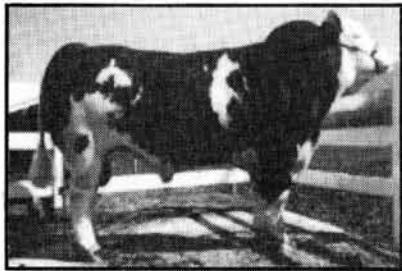

Ms JMC Else G391

Else is a truly unique full Fleckvieh cow. She is an extremely long, thick, attractive, Holb daughter out of the great Luba cow. She is one of our top donor cows.

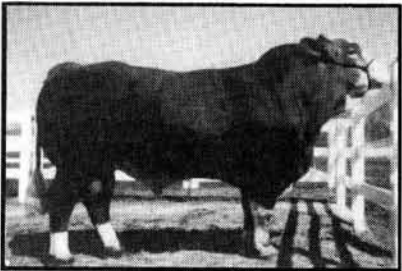

We have been fortunate to assemble a small group of quality full Fleckvieh bulls as well as excellent donor cows, some of which will be flushed for the first time this year. Calves out of our superior full Fleckvieh bulls, Hafke and Kaiser are weaning at astonishing rates.

Mr JMC Hafke F392

Hafke is the best bull Fleckvieh son alive in North America today. Here is an opportunity to buy semen out of a known son of "Hafke", the great German meat sire known for tremendous muscling.

Mr JMC Kaiser F302

Kaiser is a son out of Great Guns Karl 17C, and his dam is Adria 11A, one of the most powerful Fleckvieh cows in the breed today. He is dark red, double ring-eyed, with tremendous muscling from front to rear.

Semen $25 a straw, 5-straw minimum

Reserve Champion Simmental Steer exhibited by Bridget Fox

To be eligible for the Pennsylvania Simmental Association's Simmental Steer Program, steers must have been purchased from a member of the Pennsylvania Simmental Association, or the Pennsylvania Junior Simmental Association, and the owner of the steer must be a member of the Pennsylvania Junior Simmental Association.

MTV Ms Lucky Star

Lucky Star is an example of the type of cattle we strive to produce at Mountain View Farm. As a February calf she's feminine, adequately muscled, long and square. She is an All Star daughter out of a purebred Simmental cow. Her maternal grandsire is the popular Lucky Break bull. Stop in and see us any time to view our cows, heifers and steers of the same quality. Cattle for sale at all times.
